

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A plug for a coaxial connector and cable, especially an antenna plug, in which the outer conductive sleeve is formed entirely or partly of metal by punching, stamping, cutting or the like from sheet metal and is then bent into the sleeve shape, provided around an insulator and contact pin and held around that insulator by plastic deformation.

ef-